Response to Arguments

- In view of the changes made, the 35 USC 101 rejections of claims 22 and 24 are withdrawn.
- Applicant's arguments filed 11 November 2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.
- Applicant argues in essence that the cited prior art, namely Ikeda USPN-6,510,243 B1 fails to disclose means for uncoupling image data.
- Examiner disagrees and indicates that the cited prior art reasonably address limitations of the claimed invention. Applicant is reminded that Examiner will interpret each claim in the broadest reasonable sense, as such, the claims and only the claims form the metes and bounds of the invention. In this regard, Examiner considers Ikeda, column 6, lines 13-15, to disclose, "the uncoupling of image data". As indicated, a list of image data having region information which resulted in successful matching are displayed as retrieval results or matches.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

- The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

- Claims 1-2,13-14,19,21-22 and 24-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Ikeda (USPN 6,510,243 B1).

Regarding claim 1, Ikeda discloses: means for acquiring designation data (please note, column 4, line 48. As indicated an image is read via the image scanner 106); means for coupling image data corresponding to the designation data to form a group (please note, column 4, line 51. As indicated the input image is segmented in units of M by N pixels. In this regard, Examiner considers the summation of units to correspond to Applicant's coupling); means for detecting a feature of the image data corresponding to the designation data (please note, column 4, lines 64. As indicated attributes are appended in units of segmented regions. In this regard, Examiner considers these attributes to correspond to Applicant's features); and means for uncoupling the image data within the group, coupled by the coupling means corresponding to the designation data, according to each feature of image data corresponding to the designation data (please note, column 6, lines 4-15. As indicated a word that serves as a retrieve criteria is designated, such designation may be attained by input operation of the operator on the display 104 or may be attained by switching the attribute constraint. A list of image data having region information which resulted in successful matching are displayed as retrieval results or matches).

Regarding claim 2, Ikeda discloses: means for dividing the image data into small areas, wherein the coupling means couples the small areas of the image data to each other to group them according to the designation data (please note, column 4, line 51. As indicated the input image is segmented in units of M by N pixels. In this regard, Examiner considers the summation of units to correspond to Applicant's coupling); wherein the feature detecting means detects a feature of each of the small areas (please note, column 4, lines 64. As indicated attributes are appended in units of segmented regions. In this regard, Examiner considers these attributes to correspond to Applicant's features); wherein the uncoupling means uncouples the small areas having been coupled by the coupling means from each other according to the features of the small areas in the same group (please note, column 6, lines 4-7. As indicated a word that serves as a retrieve criteria is designated, such designation may be attained by input operation of the operator on the display 104 or may be attained by switching the attribute constraint).

Regarding claims 13-14, arguments analogous to those presented for claims 1-2, respectively are applicable.

Regarding claims 19, 21-22 and 24-26, arguments analogous to those presented for claim 1, are applicable.

Allowable Subject Matter

- Claims 3-6 and 15-18 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
- The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: None of the cited prior art disclose or reasonably suggest, “ for wherein the coupling means couples small areas corresponding to earlier designation data and small areas corresponding to current designation data to each other by storing the same identifier information as identifier information corresponding to the earlier designation data stored in a storage means so as to correspond to the small areas corresponding to the current designation data and the uncoupling means uncouples, when one of a plurality of small areas to which the same identifier information is appended by the coupling means is different in feature from other small areas, the one and other small areas from each other by changing the identifier information of the one small area to different one of the other small areas". The closest prior art, Ikeda (USPN 6,510,243 B1), discloses, wherein image data is input via an image scanner, the input image data is segmented into regions with a predetermined size, the contents of the segmented regions are analyzed, wherein neighboring segmented regions are coupled if they have the same analysis contents; while Takaha (USPN 6,021,221), discloses a method for designating an object image to be extracted is simplified, wherein positions of contour designation points are designated by employing an operation input apparatus so that a contour region of an initial region containing a desirable subjective object image is designated, either singularly or in combination, fail to anticipate or render the above underlined limitation obvious.

Conclusion

- THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).
- A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
